

India's Communists and the Elections of 2019. Only an Alternative Agenda Can Defeat the Right-Wing.

Ahead of the 2019 elections in India — the largest exercise of electoral democracy in the world— Brinda Karat of the Communist Party of India (Marxist) discusses the current political context in the country and the left-led resistance to the deepening assault on basic human rights led by India's right-wing.